FEBE Conference

BIENENBERG 2010

2–6 August 2010

“Teach us to pray”

Venue

It gives us great pleasure to invite you to join us at the next FEBE Conference, on 2-6 August 2010, at the Bienenberg Mennonite Centre in Switzerland, situated on a green hill overlooking the small town of Liestal.

Bienenberg is a peaceful place, ideal for relaxation, meditation and spiritual refreshment.

In addition, Bienenberg is only a few miles from Basel, a town with many fascinating things to see and do, with a special emphasis on history and culture.

In the immediate area around Bienenberg there are also some delightful spots such as Rheinfelden or the Roman remains at Augusta Raurica.

Conference

What is a FEBE Conference? A chance for people from different backgrounds to come together and to share in fellowship, to receive stimulating teaching, to enjoy a holiday... and simply the joy of being together.

Thanks to the efficient equipment for simultaneous translation, you don't have to miss any of the items in either French, English or Spanish.

In addition to the main talks, the programme will include times of worship and prayer, discussion and information.

The afternoons will be an opportunity for those who wish to explore the beauties of the area, in Basel in particular.

Theme

"Lord, teach us to pray". This request of Jesus' disciples has come home to us and become our own prayer at various times during our Christian life.

It leads us to renew our prayer-life, to grow in understanding and maturity, and to experience what is essential both in our personal and in our church life.

Speakers

Thierry Huser has been pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Paris since 2003, following 23 years of pastoral ministry at the Baptist Church in Nîmes.

He has been editor of the journal "Le Lien Fraternel", and continues to contribute to it. He is responsible for a course of systematic theology at the Evangelical Faculty of Theology at Vaux-sur-Seine..

Keith Johns studied French at London University and was a teacher in London for 10 years, during which time he met and married his wife Pauline.

In 1983 he was called to the pastorate of Caterham Baptist Church, where he still serves today. He is a member of the FEBE Liaison Committee.
